

The Greater Manchester & Cheshire Cardiac and Stroke Network is one of the largest Cardiac and Stroke Network in England and covers a geographical area with a population of approximately 3 million people.

The Network has a wide range of excellent health organisations that serve a diverse cultural and ethnic population.

The Network brings together clinicians, managers and other professionals from all organisations within the local region to work together to deliver equitable, high quality and effective patient focused cardiac and stroke care.

The Network provides clinical leadership, champions work in organisations and actively seeks to take forward recommendations outlined in the local Cardiac Strategy and the National Stroke Strategy.

In addition, the Network focuses upon Collaborative Commissioning. The challenge for the Network is to strike a balance between the increased levels of intervention and new technologies, with the need to target resources on health improvement and disease prevention and to secure maximum health gain from limited resources. To achieve this, managers, clinicians and patients must work together to make difficult choices about how funding should be used.

If you have any enquiries about our Network, please contact us and we will be more than happy to help you.

Best wishes
